I Am NDICT Diploma Student | Certified in English & Front-End Web Development

Badulla District, Uva Province, Sri Lanka

Summary

Innovative ICT Enthusiast | Aspiring Software Developer | Web & App Designer

Before diving into software development, I was deeply engaged in designing and developing websites for various projects, including business websites, nonprofit organizations, and event platforms. My experience ranges from crafting user-friendly interfaces to managing databases and implementing efficient backend solutions.

Currently pursuing a Higher National Diploma in ICT, I have worked on projects such as a School Management System, Bill Management System, and a Climate Change Database. I'm also exploring AI-powered mobile app development using Bolt AI to create smarter solutions.

With a strong foundation in VB.NET, SQL, and web development, I'm passionate about creating software that solves real-world problems. My goal is to continuously grow, innovate, and contribute to impactful technology-driven solutions.
